PRESS RELEASE

Reproductive Health Specialists Expands

Local Fertility Center Opens New Office Location in Pittsburgh's North Hills

PITTSBURGH, PA (January 31, 2006) Reproductive Health Specialists, Inc. (RHS), the region's ONLY independent, women-owned and operated fertility center, has spent the past six years helping local couples expand their families – now they are expanding their own. RHS is opening an additional office in Wexford at the Western Surgery Center on Rt. 19. The new office provides another convenient RHS location for patients in Pittsburgh's North Hills.

In the years since the practice's inception in 2000, RHS has experienced steady growth, but in the past year, the practice has gained numerous patients due to extremely high success rates. RHS' pregnancy success rates were recently published by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) 2003 Assisted Reproductive Technology Report (www.cdc.gov/ART/ART2003/index.htm). The center's 2004 success rates are published at www.ivfpittsburgh.com.

The additional office reflects RHS' high standard of care, which focuses on the comfort and convenience of the patient. RHS puts the patient experience first by addressing all the obstacles associated with infertility: physical, emotional and financial. Their holistic, three-prong approach combines leading edge medicine, in-house stress reduction classes and on-staff financial planning.

"At RHS, we view patients as more than just a successful or failed attempt at conception," said Dr. Judith Albert, Scientific Director. "RHS is a place where patients receive the most effective procedures along with highly personalized care. We are excited that this new location will help us to extend our mission to help even more couples have children."
